Description The Swiid Cord Switch is the first Z-Wave cable switch applied for lamps and other devices with classic cable connection. The device replaces an existing cable switch or can be easily extend a normal cable without an integrated switch. Therewith the Swiid Cord Switch can be used the same way as an ordinary cable switch or via Z-Wave wireless technology. That allows additional association with motion sensors or wireless wall switches. An association of several lamps is also possible but this depends on the used controller. Features: Cord switch with integrated Z-Wave radio Replaces existing cable switches or extends connector cables without switch Wireless Technology: Z-Wave Dimensions: 84x31x29 mm
